

Loyola Honors Three Marylanders

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph M. Nelligan

Pastor, Publisher And Industrialist To Receive Andrew White Award

Loyola College will celebrate Maryland Day this Sunday, March 25. Ceremonies will begin at 3 p.m. and will feature the presentation of the Andrew White Medal to three outstanding citizens whose contributions to the general welfare reflect the spirit of Andrew White, the Jesuit priest who accompanied Lord Baltimore's founding party in 1634.

Father Beatty, President of Loyola College, announced that medals will be awarded this year to: Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph M. Nelligan, pastor, Church of the Immaculate Conception in Towson and chairman of the Archdiocesan Commission on Ecumenism; Mr. Thomas W. Pangborn, founder and chairman of the board, Pangborn Corporation; and Mr. William F. Schmick, Sr., former president of the A. S. Abell Company.

Heading the list of distinguished guests will be the Honorable J. Millard Tawes, Governor of the State of Maryland, and the Honorable J. Harold Grady, Mayor of the City of Baltimore, who will extend greetings to alumni, students and friends in attendance at the anniversary ceremonies. Music for the occasion will be provided by the 2nd Army Band, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

Msgr. Nelligan

Msgr. Nelligan was born in 1899. He received his education at Notre Dame, Calvert Hall, St. Charles College, Loyola College, and St. Mary's Seminary. He was ordained in 1926 by Archbishop Curley and has served as Secretary to the Archbishop, Chancellor of the Archdiocese, and Rector of the Cathedral. He was appointed a domestic prelate in 1939 by Pope Pius XII. Besides his posts as Pastor of Immaculate Conception Church and Secretary of the Commission on Ecumenism, he is also a national consultant to the Catholic Daughters of America.

Mr. Pangborn

Mr. Pangborn is the founder and chairman of the board of the Pangborn Corporation, Hagerstown, Md. He is also a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland and a Trustee of the Catholic University of America and holds office on the boards of many other charitable and educational institutions in Maryland. Mr. Pangborn has received the Papal Honors of (continued on P. 3, Col. 4)

Fr. McDermott Speaks On Maryland Day

By Bill Legg

On Sunday, Loyola College will present its second Annual Maryland Day Program. The Reverend Eric McDermott, S.J. will be this year's featured speaker. Father McDermott, assistant professor of history in the Georgetown University Graduate School will speak on "The First Generation of Marylanders." Father McDermott, a native of Manchester, England, holds a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degree from the University of London. Father has also studied at Oxford University and spent two years under Sir John Neale at the Institute for Historical Research. While he was there Father produced a life of Thomas Stapleton, 1535-1598.

English Education

Father McDermott taught at St. Francis Xavier College, Liverpool, in 1936-37, and at Wimbledon College London, from 1944 to 1950. He joined the Georgetown History Faculty in October, 1950. Father is also a member of the Historical Association of England.

110th Year

Since this year marks the 328th anniversary of the founding of the Maryland colony and the 110th year since the founding of Loyola College in Baltimore by the Jesuits, Father McDermott's talk should be appropriate as well as interesting.

Glee Club Holds Pop Concert Tomorrow Night

This Saturday, March 24, the Loyola College Glee Club will present a joint "Pop Concert" with the Villa Julie Glee Club at 8:30 p.m. in Cohn Hall. The price for admission is $1.25 a couple.

Villa Julie's program consists of spirituals, "De Lord," "Sometimes I Feel Like A Motherless Child," "I Believe," and two patriotic works, "This Is My Country" and "America, Our Heritage."

Loyola's Program

Loyola's Glee Club repertoire will consist of three spirituals including "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," and "Oh Mary Don't You Weep," two pop songs "Aura Lee" and "Vive l'Amour" and R. Thompson's melodic Spanish adaptation of Hilaire Belloc's "Tarentella."

The combined Glee Clubs will sing a medley of Roger's and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" and "It's A Grand Night For Singing," and "Wonderful Copenhagen" from Hans Christian Anderson.

Second Concert

This is the club's second concert this semester since the club went to Staten Island, N.Y. Last year's concert with Villa Julie was a phenomenal success and under the joint direction of Villa Julie's new director and Miss Reinecke, this year's should prove equally successful.

Spot News

Radio Coverage

The Maryland Day Ceremonies here at Loyola will be taped by radio station WITH-FM and will be rebroadcast on Sunday night from 7 to 8 p.m. on that station. Students unable to attend the ceremonies are urged to listen.

Spring Is Here

Loyola College students have received their surest sign that spring is here; the winter issue of the annual Evergreen Quarterly has finally appeared. Seriously, congratulations to the Quarterly staff on a job well done.

Cardinal Gibbons

At the next meeting of the History Academy, John Feller will read a paper on Cardinal Gibbons and will show a film on his subject. This will be the first time that this film has been shown publicly.

Civil War Poster

The attention of the students is drawn to the poster commemorating events of the Civil War; this poster is located on the bulletin board in the basement of the Student Center near the lockers. George Sunderland and the History Academy are responsible for this project.

Easter Holidays

The students are reminded to pray for the soul of the mother of Fr. Campbell S.J. who recently died.

Distinguished Marylanders

Sunday, Loyola College will pay tribute to three most distinguished Marylanders at the annual Maryland Day festivities. These men will receive the Andrew White Medal, which was struck last year to be awarded to outstanding citizens whose contributions to the general welfare reflect the spirit and zeal of Father Andrew White, S.J., the first Jesuit priest in Maryland.

On March 25, 1634, the Feast of the Annunciation of Our Lady, Father White along with two companions came to Maryland with Lord Baltimore on the "Ark" and the "Dove." The small group landed on St. Clements' Island on the Potomac River where Father White celebrated the first Mass on record in the Free State of Maryland.

Among Father's many activities were: the composition of a grammar, dictionary, and catechism for the Indians. He was the first Englishman to give grammatical form to the native language. Father also conducted parish schools and high schools, and as the Church grew, Father White became styled "The Apostle of Maryland."

At last year's Maryland Day ceremonies, the ground was broken for The Engineering Physics Building which will be completed within the next few months. At this year's ceremonies, it is most appropriate that Loyola honor these men who exemplify the spirit of Father Andrew White, S.J. in their contribution to the State of Maryland.

the Watchdog?!

In the true Clifton Fadiman tradition, the Dog is interested in stimulating the reading of Loyola College students. Consequently, it lists its choice for the 12 "must" books on every student's list:

1. "A History of William of Orange" by Albert Poklemba
2. "How to Conduct a Filibuster" by George Ordenez
3. "La Dolce Vita or "The Story of a black El Dorado convertible" by George Shehan
4. "How to get a Liberal education by Joe Kosiorek
5. "You too Can Make over $10,000 a Year" by Mike Sneeringer and Ted Herget
6. "My Five Years here at Loyola" by Mike Ennis (with a special prologue by Norrie Burns)

7. "Knit Your Own Sweaters at Home" by Ed Slawski
8. "Famous Examples in History" (including Joan of Arc, Orestes Augustus Brownson, and a glass of cyanide) by Dr. Varga
9. "Metaphysical Questions Raised by Mother Goose" by Mr. O'Donovan
10. "The Making of a President: 1961" by John Baynes and Mike Hillmann
11. "My Nickname Used to be 'Skinny', but Look at Me Now!" - A series of essays by Jack Lanne, Eleanor Roosevelt, Jackie Gleason, and Marty Pilsch.

The Aquamen

Preis and Sydnor

The Greyhound is again proud to spotlight two of Loyola's fine senior athletes; they are Jim Sydnor and Gerry Preis, both members of the championship swimming team.

Jim is a native Baltimorean who has found in his four years here that Loyola is an excellent school due to the courses it has to offer. Upon his graduation from Loyola High School, however, he at first decided to go to Virginia Polytechnic Institute where his brother had gone before him. But after a year there he realized that engineering was not meant for him and so he transferred to Loyola where the excellent social sciences here attracted his attention, especially History, his major.

As a freshman all over again, Jim lost no time in becoming a part of campus life as he joined the Debating Society, the Sodality, and the John Berchman's Society. This year he has also joined the Glee Club. In his sophomore year Jim tried out for the swimming team and made the team; he has been a diligently hard worker ever since. Practice paid off for him as he had the finest year of his career this year, swimming in the butterfly and freestyle events.

Jim is also a member of advanced ROTC and is a First Lieutenant this year. He claims he enjoyed participating in summer camp last summer because, as he puts it, he was, "in his element." Upon graduation, he plans to enter the reserve and study for a law degree.

Gentleman Jim Sydnor

Natator-Jerry Preis

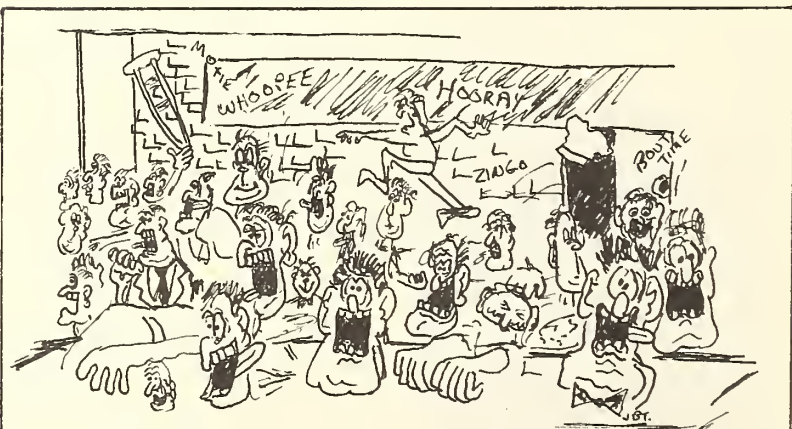

Next in the spotlight we have Gerry Preis, that personable math major from out Towson way. Gerry is the second eldest of a family of eleven children and is certainly at no loss with a crowd. He is a graduate of Loyola High where he found time to be on the tennis team all four years and also was the Features Editor of the Loyolan in Senior year.

When he came to Loyola, Gerry knew right away that he wanted to be a math major. This decided he set out to join those activities which interested him and the first that he found was the swimming team. In that first year he swam in distance freestyle events and filled in on some sprints on the freestyle relay.

Although he is another one of those swimmers who had no previous swimming experience, he has consistently improved over his four years on the team, and this year was called on for more starts than any one else. Gerry is best known as the balladeer of the team and has enlivened many a long bus trip with his interesting songs.

Gerry is also a member of the St. John Berchman's Society and for the past two years he has been head of the Projects Committee for the Green and Grey Club. In the summer, he journeys to Camp Skylemar in Naples, Maine where he is a camp counselor in water activities and tennis.

Upon graduation, Gerry plans to attend Officers Training School.

Lecture on Council Scheduled Thursday

On Thursday, March 29, Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, S.J. will lecture on the "Ecumenical Character of the Second Vatican Council." The lecture, which is sponsored in conjunction with the Sadie Baker Ayd Lecture Series, will be held in Cohn Hall at 8:30 P.M.

Fr. O'Donnell was born in Dublin, Ireland fifty-six years ago. Following his ordination, Father taught at Orihuela, Spain until the revolution broke out in 1931 from which he narrowly escaped.

From 1945 to 1947, he was professor of ancient and modern history at St. Xavier's College of the University of Bombay, India. In 1947 he was appointed professor of Ecclesiastical History at the Jesuit Theologate in Dublin.

In 1954, Father was appointed director of the English language section of the Vatican radio.

In 1961, Father toured Australia and New Zealand for three months at the request of the Vatican authorities. This year, he is touring the United States on Vatican radio business.

Slawski Sez'

F. Scott Fitzgerald was one of the most famous commentators on the age of the glorious twenties. His vivid literary images and perceptive character insights created for him a very high place in the American literary tradition. Usually attempts to recreate his works on film fail. Tender is the Night is no exception. Judging the film on its own merits

(not considering the original text), much is found wanting. The plot is set in the twenties when Europe was the millionaires' playground. Jason Robards, Jr. plays a brilliant young psychiatrist with a very promising future before him. His trouble begins when he undertakes to cure Jennifer Jones, a wealthy young heiress, of the emotional shock incurred by illicit relations with her father. In the process of the cure he falls in love with her. After a useless attempt at evasion they marry.

Once married, Robards forsakes his career to become a bon vivant on his wife's money. When he finally tries to resume his vocation, he discovers he and his wife have exchanged positions of relative dominance. He is too weak to resume his profession. Of course, when his wife realizes this, she loses interest. Only when they separate does the doctor once again resume a shadow of his former position.

Psycho Theme

The theme of the show seemed to be don't go near the psychiatrist. The psychotic strains get the upper hand over all else. This appears to the reviewer to be somewhat off target. Perhaps they should have concentrated on the point they missed.

The costumes and scenery are opulent. But, the pace is slow, the dialogue uninteresting, the acting unspectacular, and the action nonexistent. The over-all impression: ho-hum!

Answer to Sticks and Stones

The following is a reply to the article in the March 9th issue of The Greyhound which dealt with the stealing of lamps from the R.C.I.A. Hall during the Sophomore Class Party:

To Whom It May Concern:

The reason I took the glass lamps is because the heater was not working in the car, and it was cold out. All of us in the car were cold, and we needed warming. (sic)

* * *

Reply: This is indeed an unusual reason. How long did it take you to think of it? I am really becoming worried about you now! With your car heater in such a condition, you may contract pneumonia, and the brotherhood of thieves will be minus a member. I strongly recommend that you get your heater fixed, not only because of your health, but also because of the danger of using fuel to heat your car. It may explode and demolish your car and your friends. Think it over, Mr. X!

Hound Stickmen Oppose Ohio State In Opener

Today at 3:30, the Greyhound Lacrosse team opens its season against a formidable rival from the Big-Ten Conference--Ohio State. Last year the Hounds defeated the Buckeyes by the impressive score of 15-8. It is hoped that the team can equal or better that score today. In preparation for this opener the Hound stickmen have been having late practice and weekend scrimmages. Their opponent last Saturday was the Brooklyn Park Lacrosse Club, and the team appeared to be in fine form, winning 9-4. The offense looked particularly sharp in the victory as they continually pressed the attack and bombed the opposing goal. Attackman Marty Pilsch was the offensive leader with three goals, while midfielders Lou Becker and John Stewart accounted for two goals apiece. Page Fried and Mike Abromaitis also figured in the scoring. The defense was very aggressive, clearing the ball well.

These weekend scrimmages are very valuable for the team and enlightening for coaches Charlie Wenzel and Tom Murphy. From them they are able to detect any mistakes and correct them before the actual season opens. We will see how many mistakes have been eliminated this afternoon at 3:30.

Polar Bears And Porky Pigs Tie For Cage Lead

Three more teams were eliminated from the intramural Basketball League last week as the field was narrowed down to 7 teams. The Porky Pigs edged the previously unbeaten Foul Baegels by the score of 36 to 34. Buzzy Lucas, Ed Gunkel, John Kircher, and Paul Cashour were the big guns in the Porky Pigs victory and Dave Marshall and Jim Kennedy were high scorers for the Foul Baegels. Tony Rivezzo and Bob Schu led the Bombers to a 32 to 29 victory over the Fips. Barry Frost and Vince Carlin scored 9 apiece in a losing cause for the Fips.

Other Games

The Bombers won their second game in a week last Friday with a 51 to 40 victory over the 1.5's. Bob Schu and Tony Rivezzo again led the Bombers getting scoring help from Jack Conley, Jack O'Keefe and Joe Russo. Joe Kernan had 13 and Bob Rossi 12 for the 1.5's. In the final game, Norrie Byrnes' 12 points led the Huggers to a 38 to 33 victory over the Hawks. Dick Lattanzi had 17 for the Hawks.

Standings

Polar Bears	3-0
Porky Pigs	3-0
Bombers	3-1
Mavericks	2-1
Foul Baegels	2-1
Dukes	2-1
Huggers	2-1

Two more weeks remain in the second round of the Intramural Bowling League, and Willie's Nemesis continues to hold its lead posting a 15-6 record. They are closely followed by the HiFi's (14-7) and Willie's Winners (13-8).

STRAIGHT SHOOTERS: Loyola riflemen get set for Potomac State College Tilt.

Bowdoin College Diamond Forces Here Monday

On Monday afternoon, Lefty Reitz's baseballers will open their season against Bowdoin College of Maine in a 3 p.m. contest. The Hound squad is starting to shape up after a late start due to inclement weather.

Probably the strongest department on the Loyola nine will be pitching. Lefty Phil Potter, who accounted for 5 of the 9 Hound victories last season, will spearhead the pitching corps which also includes Rel Van Daniker, Ed Burchell, Charley Nemecek, Johnny Kogler, Jody Satterfield, and John Kircher.

Infield Looks Sharp

The Hound infield also is shaping up. Vets Bill Falkenhan, Joe Russo, Mike Elliot, and Johnny Campbell have looked very good in recent drills, both in the field and at bat. Frosh infielders Billy Heidel and Bob Rossi have also impressed and either one or both of them could nail down a starting berth. The Hound catchers will be George Yurek and Al Schroeder.

Among the outfield aspirants are vets Jim Kennedy and Jim Marshall and rookies Bill Koch and Jimmy Coyle.

Coach Lefty Reitz

GREYHOUND SPORTS

by Tom Kenney

Last weekend in Evansville, Indiana, Mount Saint Mary's captured the NCAA small college division basketball tournament by conquering a member of the finest small college cage squads in the country. Although we might have grumbled about the Mount victories during the Mason-Dixon season, we can now be cheered by their fine showing because of its effect on the M-D Conference as a whole. The Mountaineers' Tourney triumph speaks well of the quality of cage play in the Mason-Dixon loop.

New Member

A new name may appear on the list of the Hounds' Mason-Dixon opponents next season. Last Saturday William and Mary College of Norfolk was admitted to the Conference.

The Quality of Mercy

Although this issue went to press too early to get all of the results of the Faculty-student cage contest, one result is still certain. Some of our teacher-athletes have a few aching muscles which just may make them a bit irritable. We hope that the students who have such teachers in class will sympathize with the rugged life of our out-of-shape teacher-athletes and act accordingly.

RACKETEER: Alex Cummings gets set to return a Michalis serve.

Rackets Season Begins Thursday

The Hound Tennis team will open its season next Thursday against Catholic U. Coach Collimore expects to have a strong squad this season due to the return of a number of veterans and also to the large turnout of Freshmen candidates. Heading the returnees are Capt. Dave Mulrooney, Alex Cummings, Jim Mohler, Dan Michalis and Barry Tillman. Outstanding Freshman Russell Tontz may nail down the number one position.

Large Turnout

Mr. Collimore has been especially pleased with the large number of candidates trying out, especially the many Freshmen. Some of the Frosh prospects are Larry McKenna, Denny Keating, the Mitcherling twins, and Henry Farkas. This is by far the largest Freshman turnout in Loyola History.

Rifle Team Cops Crown

Last Friday, the Loyola College rifle team defeated Morgan State College, 1382-1342, to capture the State Round-Robin Championship. Led by freshman Tom Nooney, who fired a 279, the Hounds never trailed in downing their third straight state opponent and bringing their season log to 9 wins and 4 losses. Sophs Norm Williams (227), Paul Schlick (276), Jim Gilley (276), and Marty O'Neill (274) rounded out the Hound scoring in the Morgan match.

Fighting Team

Team coach Sergeant Foley has said: "This is the fightingest rifle team Loyola has ever had." This is also one of the Hounds most well-rounded teams ever. Besides the five scorers in the Morgan match, Loyola has had other consistent scorers in Captain Denny Homberg, juniors Jim Abraham and Nate Tinanoff, soph Bill Miller and freshmen Phil Marino and Pat Coleman.

Today the riflemen will take on Potomac State College in a match which promises to be one of their best efforts to date. The Greyhound extends its congratulations to the riflemen and wishes them future success.

Track Veterans Carry All Hopes For Good Year

Track Coach, Bill McElroy, will probably depend heavily on his veterans to carry him over the humps of the upcoming season. The Hounds are strongest in the sprints. Their greatest asset is Arnie Saperstein M-D sprint champ. Arnie also performs well in the mile relay. Tony Ryan, talented soph M-D sprint finalist, is second, followed closely by utility man, Phil Pierpont.

In the quarter mile are Tom Kenny and Dan Leubecker. Kenny, hampered by a bad ankle, may see little duty early in the season. Leubecker is strong, almost bull-like, and consistent in the 440. Charles Cherry, perhaps the man to watch, has a good chance for the highjump crown, if he continues to perform as he did last season.

Weights Events

Weightman, Rick Campbell is the premier shot and discus man. He is ably backed by team captain, Bill Smuck, and Lenny Klien. Soph Phil Pierpont, still nursing a bad leg and Jim Smith are the only veterans in the broadjump contingent.

The Hounds are really hurting in the distance runs. Lew Smith and Hank McGraw are the only available seasoned performers in the mile and two mile. The weakest events are the pole vault, hurdles, and 880. Denny Lingenfelter is the only experienced vaulter on the team. At present the 880 and hurdles are void of veterans, and it seems likely that "Mac" may have to shift some of his other vets to fill the gap.
